The WannaCry ransomware attack

and all of its fast moving variants have been creating tremendous security headaches around the globe. The upcoming Cloud Expo Asia in Hong Kong, 24-25 May, will provide important educational sessions in partnership with Cloud Security Alliance about this and many other critical cybersecurity issues.

The WannaCry attack appears to have been based upon leaked exploits developed by the United States National Security Agency. While the original attack has been disabled, more sophisticated versions are now in the wild. CSA is holding 2 events at Cloud Expo Asia, a Financial Cloud Forum on 24 May and the CSA Hong Kong & Macau Summit on 25 May. CSA CEO Jim Reavis will conduct 3 diverse educational sessions, including a session about the global regulatory environment for cloud in financial services, and a separate session about #WannaCry related to cloud, threat intelligence and the CSA Cloud Cyber Incident Sharing Center (CISCI).

Also, we've prepared you a line-up of 250+ world-class speakers, including Hong Kong Federation of E-Commerce, Hong Kong Police Force, Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks, INTERPOL, MoneyHero.com.hk, Nexsguard Consulting Limited, PwC, Standard Chartered Bank, The Securities and Futures Commission of Hong Kong, The Hong Kong Monetary Authority, The Payment Cards Group Limited, Wing Lung Bank and many more! Join the sessions to hear their first-hand experience and share your thoughts!
