Cloud Security Alliance APAC Codebook - September 2018

Release in September 2018

Code of Conduct for GDPR Compliance - Japanese Version

CSA Code of Conduct for GDPR Compliance, provides cloud service providers (CSPs), cloud customers, and potential customers with much-needed guidance in order to comply with the new obligations stemming from the European General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). As part of this release, the CSA has also launched the CSA GDPR Resource Center, a new community-driven website with tools and resources to help educate CSPs and enterprises on the new European data protection regulation.

Visit to Nokia Cloud Collaboration Hub on 26 September 2018, Singapore

CSA took a dip into the insights of behind-the-scenes work and prospects in a collaboration with Nokia. Joining us were participants from CSA Singapore Chapter and CSA corporate member, ST Engineering. Nokia shared with us about cyber security technologies especially as a telco that handles high data throughputs. The collaboration hub brings together collaborators interested in exploring such technologies on a production basis as a proof of concept for a production environment. This engaging and interactive session allowed both sides to discover potential partnerships moving forward.
